Meaningful Work..😃□□

Many people say,
“I’m tired of working…”

But the truth is —
a person does not get tired because of work…
a person gets tired from work without meaning.

The work that has purpose, passion, and the fire to build your identity —
does not drain the body, it energizes the soul.

A farmer works hard in the field all day,
yet smiles when he sees the crop.
A mother stays busy for the family all day,
yet love never lets her feel exhausted.

Because…
where there is “compulsion,” there is fatigue,
but where there is “inspiration,” there is strength.

So, find work in life
that gives not only a salary,
but also satisfaction.

Do work in such a way
that even Monday mornings feel like a celebration…
and before sleeping at night, your heart says —
“Yes… today I did something meaningful.”

Remember —

work should not exhaust us,

it should inspire us.
